K-Visas - Spouse, Fiancé and Child(ren) of U. S. Citizens

After USCIS approves the petition (I-129F), the petition is sent to the National Visa Center for processing, which then sends it to the Consular Section at the U.S. Embassy where the beneficiary will apply for a K-nonimmigrant visa (K1, K2, K3, or K4 Visa).

After the Embassy receives the approved petition, the beneficiary will be contacted and instructed to visit the U.S. Embassy's Consular Section to pick up instructions on how to proceed ("Packet 3").

- ❑ Passport: The passport must be valid for at least six months from the date of the interview. The passport must reflect the correct name and date of birth of the applicant. The visa is issued in the name given in the applicant's passport.

Instructions for the medical examination are available at <http://nepal.usembassy.gov/visas/immigrant-visas/medical-exams.html>. The medical report is sent to the Embassy directly by the physician.
